In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a Stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the heart or kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the Stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the heart or kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days test will surely tell. Try it once, and see! Sold by all dealers.

The Present Democratic Horoscope.
From the New York Sun.

Democratic dreamers who figure their quadrennial triumphs upon a darkened sky, only to find them invisible after the ruthless swab of fact, are now indulging in roseate calculations against another background. They are painting ecstatic horoscopes for 1912 and assuming that the Hon. William Jennings Bryan will not be there to bewilder and betray their adumbrations. They see with a man of proved prowess in conservatism to carry their oft defeated and humiliated banner the promise of the long sought victory, and upon this halcyon postulate they are erecting structures so brilliant and inviting as to dazzle the ordinary eye.

For example, they count the 159 votes of the Southern States as sure. That is a base to build upon, with only 242 votes in the electoral system needed to elect, according to the present apportionment. Of course with Bryan holding aloft the party banner they cannot be sure of Maryland and Missouri, an assumption with which we quite agree; but they claim that Bryan's elimination will not only make them sure of the solid South but under existing political circumstances will pave the way to other accessions. The table they have arranged is as follows:

Alabama.....	11	Missouri.....	18
Arkansas.....	9	North C.....	12
Florida.....	5	South C.....	9
Georgia.....	13	Tennessee.....	12
Kentucky.....	13	Texas.....	18
Louisiana.....	9	Virginia.....	12
Maryland.....	8
Mississippi.....	10	Total.....	159

They claim that with Bryan dismissed from the calculation they can approach at least three other States, New York, Ohio and Indiana, with more than a fighting chance to prevail. The electoral votes of these three States amount now to 77. Having Bryan at their head they would lose all of them. The independent voters would scurry like frightened rabbits, and the Republican party come into its own as it has so often done under that or similar menace. They are founding this particular horoscope upon the absolute removal of the Nebraska blight, as they rightly consider it. Given a leader representing the ancient traditions of the Democratic party and known far and wide as a clean, able, determined man, they would surely carry the 159 votes of the South, and in their belief the votes of New York, Ohio and Indiana. Thus assured of 236 electoral votes, and with only six more to look for elsewhere (always speaking of the present apportionment), they could afford to neglect the "hoorays and the hurrahs" of Populistic communities and concentrate their energies and their fine work within very narrow confines. In Colorado, Nevada, Delaware, Oklahoma, and one or two outlying Territories they might find the much desired six, and so victory would perch upon their banners. They could abandon Kansas, Iowa, Minnesota, &c., as hopeless and make their campaign within limits at once promising and arable.

That at least is the Democratic outlook at present. For simplicity and for all purposes of easy concentration it is worth attention.
